

Commuter Reimbursement Account (CRA)

What's A Commuter Reimbursement Account?

Commuter Reimbursement Accounts (CRA) allow employees to set aside money on a pre-tax and post-tax basis to use for eligible transportation and parking expenses.

Commuter Reimbursement Account Types

Transit – Your employees can set aside pre-tax and post-tax dollars to cover mass-transit expenses on any public transit commuter system. This includes New York City Transit Authority buses and subways, Long Island Railroad, Metro North Commuter Railroad, New Jersey transit, Staten Island Rapid transit, Port Authority Trans-Hudson Corp (PATH), commuter and suburban bus service Amtrak, and certain ferry and registered van pool services.

Parking – Your employees can set aside pre-tax and post-tax dollars for parking expenses incurred near your place of employment while at work. It will also cover expenses incurred for parking near a location where you utilize mass transit.

How Does It Work?

You will elect a specified monthly amount of money to be deducted from your paycheck on a pre-tax/post-tax basis and deposited into a Commuter Reimbursement Account. You will receive a Benefits Debit Card to access these funds.

The Paypro Benefits MasterCard®

Paypro Benefits provides a MasterCard® debit card for easy, convenient access to your FSA dollars. You can simply swipe the card anywhere MasterCard® is accepted.
